A Tribute

Kelloggsville — in this one word is embodied friendship, happiness, and memories. The spirit of friendship that prevails at Kelloggsville symbolizes the ideals and high standards that this school has striven to acquire. This friendship between the students and the faculty has been the element that has brought us happiness throughout our high school years.

With this as a background, it is inevitable that we will have numerous pleasant memories to take with us as we go forth into our new adventure.

We salute you — Kelloggsville High.

FAREWELL . . .

There is nothing as priceless as a true friend, and you have been that friend. Through your constant interest in our welfare and our school, we have become even prouder of Kelloggsville. In the short period you have been with us, you have introduced many new improvements at our school, and your complete understanding of our needs and wishes has meant much to us. Whenever any student has been puzzled or troubled, who has been more ready to help than you? There are hundreds of thoughtful little things you have done each day — not deeds for which one can give a definite "Thank you," but things that have contributed much to making our school days happy.

For being what you are and in appreciation for what you have given us, we wish you good luck and express our regrets at this parting. With this 1944 edition of the Century, we say farewell to you, Mrs. LeValley.

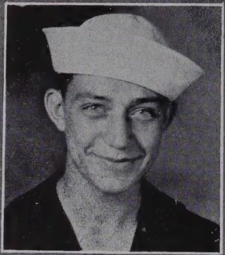
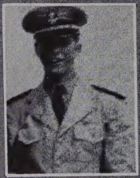
DEDICATION . . .

For your thoughtfulness, patience, and interest in us; for your readiness to help us with anything we might undertake and the spirit of friendliness you create wherever you go; for the light you spread with your wondrous faith; for your ability to make the classes you teach interesting and yet instructive, we admire you. Your faithful service at Kelloggsville and kindness to us will long be remembered.

For always being ready with a cheerful smile and friendly encouragement, we, the Seniors, dedicate this 1944 edition of the Century to you, Miss Wray.





Kelloggsville is proud of those of its young men who have answered the nation's call to serve their country, of those of our number who put their school books away for this cause. Here are only a few of almost two hundred in uniform. Many of these boys are already serving overseas.

We pay tribute to those who are giving their happiness, their youthful vitality, and their life's blood to preserve life, liberty and democracy.

SENIORS of 1944

OUR PAST

The years we have spent at Kelloggsville have been marked with good times, eventful happenings, and success. Included in our high school years are the paper drive of our Freshman year, the skit portraying European dictators, and two big Box Socials.

Our Junior year found us feeling a bit grown-up and the class gave several skating parties. We gave a highly successful Junior-Senior Prom and proudly displayed our new class rings. "Spring Fever," the 1943 Jr.-Sr. play, will never be forgotten, nor will "Good Night, Ladies," our last effort.

In 1944, we were the Seniors of Kelloggsville and very proud of the fact, too. We had a hay-ride, a spring party and did many other exciting things. Not to be neglected, was our work on the 1944 Century.

This is only a sketch of our life at Kelloggsville. There have been other things, too — happy times galore. Our last year was altered by war conditions. Many of our boys gave up their youthful pleasure to help in a greater cause. We are proud of them. This has been our past. We are wondering what our future will be.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of '44

We, the senior class of Kelloggsville High School, being of sound mind, memory, and understanding, and physically fit, do make, publish, and declare the following our last Will and Testament.

Article I

A. To the problem class of 1945, we bequeath our ability to conduct orderly class meetings, accomplishing much! (Joke)

B. To the "Sophties" of our beloved camping-grounds, we bequeath our abundance of senior boys (6), as we have an over supply.

C. To the "Frosh" of Kelloggsville, we bequeath our ability to look our best in "crew-cuts" and "curlers" until the day of the senior pictures.

D. To the babes of K.H.S., the eighth grade, we bequeath our quiet, dignified manners in the session halls.

E. To the student body as a whole, we seriously give our best wishes for a successful and memorable future.

Article II

A. We give back to Mr. Tynan his office, as we are through with it.

B. We give to Mrs. LeValley a bundle of excuse pads and the gullibility to accept the excuses given her.

C. We give to Mr. Formsma the little "dears" that got away.

D. We give to Miss Clarke a new wig for all the hair she's torn out over the illustrious senior class.

E. We give to Mrs. Greenwald an optimistic scale.

F. We give to Mr. Ten Dyke a male companion to keep him company on his way to school.

G. We give to Miss Wray the opportunity to accomplish her life's ambition.

H. We give to Mrs. Van Dyke and Mrs. Sachen as much happiness as they have given to us.

I. We give to Mrs. Kolhstedt our ability to resist hot fudge sundaes — ahem!

J. We give to Mrs. Hook a bright red "blitz-buggy" with a "C" sticker on its nose.

K. We give to Miss Farrell the ability to indulge in oysters, spaghetti, pickles, and cokes, showing no ill effects.

L. We give to Miss Eikenhout the world with a fence around it.

M. We give to Mrs. Spaude Katharine Cornell on a silver platter.

N. We give to Miss Stryker a brand new oven to make a big, fat fudge cake — for us!

O. We give to Miss Bergy a private office and a secretary all her own.

P. We give to Mrs. Rundio and Mrs. Gallick our ability to get acquainted at K.H.S.

Article III

1. I, Esther Christian, do leave my skipping days to Nora Jensen.
2. I, Emily Cooke, give my giggle to Angela Steffes.
3. I, Clarence Cronkright, do leave my brush cuts to Jim Lanting.
4. I, Eleanor Bloomer, do bequeath my ability to "get 'em and keep 'em" to Charlotte Roberts.
5. I, Donna Cross, do give my "knack" of arguing to Bill Bloomer.
6. I, Pearl De Zeeuw, do bequeath my knowledge of Byron Center to Maegene Reinink.
7. I, Ophel Hamstra, do leave my cultured, quiet ways to Bob Hartford.
8. I, John Heyboer, do give my ability to keep track of my class ring to Ken Doxtator.
9. I, Ruth Hoffman, do leave my slender waistline to Larry Stephens.
10. I, Ilo Ihrig, do leave my megaphone to Mary Anne Stickney.
11. I, Shirlee Jenkins, do give my fan mail to Arlene Marshall.
12. I, Harold Reinink, do bequeath my "Armstrong" heater to Rodney Finkbeiner.
13. I, Betty Thayer, do give my soprano voice to "Moe" Goudzwaard.
14. I, Edythe Johnson, do leave my long hair to Dorothy Babbitt.
15. I, Rose Johnson, will not leave my southern friend, Texas, to anyone. I want him!
16. I, Carolyn Karel, do give my sweet manner to Adele Hussey.
17. I, Olive Kesler, do bequeath my "sloppy-joe" sweaters to Delores Petris.
18. I, Mary Marks, do leave my "flustrated" way to Don Shippy.
19. I, Jeanne La Bar, do leave my red hair to Dorothy Chivis.
20. I, Harold Noorman, do bequeath my taste for blondes to LaVern Weaver.
21. I, Evelynn Oriel, do leave my blue-rimmed glasses to Art Schneider.
22. I, Helen O'Toole, do leave my "bobby-bangs" to Iris Melvin.
23. I, Eleanor Piersma, do bequeath my ability not to catch on to jokes to Louis Poll.
24. I, Gladys Schriemer, do leave my sense of humor and good marks for general use around K.H.S.
25. I, Pauline Sybesma, do leave my ability to keep both eyes open while walking down the hall to Lois Knight.
26. I, Gordon Stephens, do give my "Romeo" ways to Glenn Ihrig.
27. I, Eleanor Van Houten, do leave my mathematical ability to Harold Snyder.
28. I, Audrey Wagner, do leave my love for animals to Joyce Dieterman.
29. I, Leona Weisgerber, do give my poetic ability to Don Green.
30. I, Winifred Williamson, leave my friendly nature to Don Van Dyke.
31. I, Joyce Weber, do bequeath my exotic eyebrows to Bill Van Gorder.
32. I, Ralph Bravata, do bequeath my knowledge of aeronautics to Orlando Parish.
33. I, Jacquelyn Longstreet, do leave my dimpled chin to Aileen Yeakey.
34. I, Harriet Wind, do give my orange jacket to Shirley Holly.
35. I, Jean Ensign, do leave my love for light fiction to Shirley Kesler.

We do hereby appoint our superintendent, Mr. John Tynan, to be the executor of this our last will and testament. In witness whereof we have set our hand and seal, the first day of June in this year nineteen hundred forty-four.

Witnesses: George Brickell

Prophecy

Hello —— operator? Give me Elm 703. Hello, Mable? My dear, can you imagine? I just received a letter from Gladys. You know she's a foreign correspondent and has been traveling abroad. She just got back from India and said she met Audrey Wagner there in a mission station near Calcutta. She saw Ruth Hoffman in France, too, doing welfare work. Ruth got married to the best-looking Frenchman. Oh, by the way, I called at the Dona La Crosse beauty salon yesterday, and guess who was there? —— Mary, with Junior in a sailor suit. He's the image of his daddy. She said that Ralph Bravata was a flight instructor at a California field. He gives private lessons to Hollywood debutantes. And speaking of airplanes, Eleanor Bloomer looks nifty in her new stewardess' uniform.

On my way home yesterday, I stopped in at Jloppes' Dairy. Guess who is running the place? —— Jeanne and Pauline! Eleanor Van Houten's and Shirley Jenkins' children work there nights. Pauline said they are getting most of their cream from Pearl DeZeeuw's farm now. Jeanne said Ilo came in the other day to buy fifty quarts of cherry ice cream. I guess she and Esther were throwing another party for the neighborhood.

You did? —— Where? I'd never believe it. I never thought Clarence Cronkright and Jacky would make a go of it. Of all things! —— Imagine, his own bakery! Remember when he worked at the A&P? Did you say John Heyboer was an efficiency expert? Well, that sounds logical. Is Emily still in his office? —— I always thought she'd make a good secretary but I didn't think she would stay after she was married.

Rose Johnson is playing in the Symphony Orchestra now at the Civic Auditorium, the monthly concerts, you know. Did you see the "Reinink Write-Ups" column in the Press last night? —— You didn't? —— He gave a book review on Edythe Johnson's new history book. Very interesting.

Speaking of music, Betty Thayer has been making records for nickelodeons. What? —— She has! —— Well, it was about time for Olive to make up her mind. She was about to be an old maid! That renowned duo, Carolyn Karel and Helen O'Toole, will sing at her wedding.

"Ham" Noorman is an accountant in the House of Morgan on Wall Street. He and "Blondie" live in an apartment on the west side of New York. Ophel Hamstra is head nurse at the Sunshine Sanitarium. Jean Ensign is a nurse there and sings the patients to sleep.

Gordon Stephens is in the State senate. Mr. Formsma certainly was an inspiration to him with his talks in Government class. Good old Mr. Formsma! And Joyce Weber —— Guess where she is? She's married and living in Chicago. She plays the piano in Woolworth's Dime Store. Harriet Wind plays her accordian there on Joyce's days off. And Winifred is still spending her time at the ringside of boxing matches. Oh, and Evelynn Oriel is a model at Herpolsheimer's. Isn't that too exciting?

Did I see the picture down at the Bijou? —— No, why? —— Leona Weisgerber wrote that play? —— It sounds good. —— Well, I guess we have covered everyone in the class of '44. Do call some time again —— 'Bye.

The Junior class came through with flying colors.

Unforgettable are the four skating parties sponsored by this peppy group. The outstanding event of the year for the Juniors was the Junior-Senior Prom, "The Winter Frolic." It was a gala occasion on the evening of January twenty-seven; a five-piece orchestra provided music for the dancing, and there were games and refreshments, too. Class rings, which arrived in April, are now being worn by the happy Juniors. A spring picnic ended a successful year for the class of '45.

Looking forward to the activities of later years, the Sophomore class devised a plan for expanding their treasury.

The climax of this plan was the Box Social which netted a large profit for the class and was a big success. In addition to their class activities, dues were collected.

The main project of the freshmen of Kelloggsville was a salvage of waste paper. They were very successful in this patriotic cause, regardless of the obstacles of war-time transportation.

This class showed much co-operation in their undertakings and their project was a great success.

The Honor Society took its place again this year as one of the leading societies of the school. The members carried on an extensive sale of war bonds and stamps and joined the Minute Man League of surrounding schools.

Induction services were held in January to admit new members. A general "clean-up" campaign was sponsored and the society strove towards higher ideals for Kelloggsville and worked earnestly to make it a school to be proud of. The highlights of the year were a potluck supper, held at Mrs. LeValley's home in March, and a picnic in the spring.

Nothing could speak more eloquently for the K.H.S. Comet than its recently published statement of policy . . . "Designed to inform, improve, and entertain the student body."

Innovations in the paper this year were sports feature stories, letters to the editor, "by-line" features, and the publication of a supplement, entitled Previews.

K.H.S. knew a night of mysterious and humorous happenings when the new junior members were initiated into the Girls' League.

The outstanding activities of the League were the teas and luncheons, planned to acquaint the girls with social activities. A high school mixer was also sponsored by the League in the school auditorium. The group completed an active year by finishing an afghan for the Red Cross.

The Hobby Club was a new venture at Kelloggsville, designed to create new interest in hobbies. The group started off the year with a party in January; there were refreshments and games.

The members brought their hobbies to the club meetings; some of these were scrapbooks, model airplanes, knitting, sewing, writing, and collections. A Hobby Fair was held as the project of the club; at this exhibition all of the hobbies were displayed and judged. A spring picnic ended the year.

The Science Club really proved true to its name and was very active this past year.

Some of the boys showed an interest in telegraphy, Morse Code, and various branches of aviation. Others "majored" in photography, radio, and landscaping. The club gave a highly successful movie in February. A part of the proceeds were given to the Red Cross. The boys also set up a plan to present each club member with a worthwhile gift when he graduates from school.

The Campfire Girls, under the leadership of their guardians, completed a year of activities that made the name of Campfire Girls well known.

The girls, through carol singing, earned money to contribute to the Percy Jones Hospital Fund. The girls took many nature hikes during the year and gave much of their winter-time to the study of nature. The grand climax was the week-end camp in June.

"Good Night, Ladies," a farce in three acts was presented by the Juniors and Seniors at a matinee and at an evening performance on March 2 and 3 respectively.

The antics of the college boys who tried to play the role of two old maid aunts brought many laughs from the capacity audience. The play proved very entertaining and successful, thanks to a capable director and cast.

PATRONS

The Seniors are grateful for the work done by Mr. Edward Marks, in this annual. His enthusiasm, his suggestions, and his helpfulness have contributed largely to the success of our 1944 CENTURY. Some of his work is displayed in the introductory pages of this book, the football section of sports, and many of the photographs. His work is really appreciated and so we say again, "Thanks, very much, Mr. Marks."

"A PHOTOGRAPH . . .
Is a Link in the Chain of Memory"

After graduation, classmates drift apart . . . the eye of memory grows dim . . . and a personality is lost forever . . . Unless that personality was captured in a photograph.

As your class photographers, we are proud to have forged the links in your memory chain, and we take this occasion to offer our sincere thanks . . . And Congratulations!
